

Shamanic Priestessing

With international Seabean Teacher and Healer Amantha Murphy

11th April 2020 in Madison, Wisconsin

Seabean/ The Keeper of the Mysteries - the womyn who walks between the worlds, weaving the threads of the fabric of the Earth and those who live upon Her. It is she who remembers and reweaves things into balance, weaving the web of our Blessed Mother Earth. Journeying for her clan/tribe; retrieving what was lost or disconnected and cutting the ties to what no longer feeds or supports.

Shamanic Priestessing - Bringing the balance of our Power, Passion and Grace within ourselves, and through that experience we naturally create the space for those around us to find that balance and healing within themselves. Creating and holding the space for each to fall within and become whole.

The role of the Shamanic Priestess is to hold the Chalice for others to drink from, that their thirst for Wholeness may be re-awakened. To offer comfort, to BE with another; in their joy, pain, birth and transition onwards. To celebrate their life and bear Witness to all that has brought them to this space of now.

WE WILL BE WORKING WITH:

- Middle World Journeying, Meeting our Deities and allies, , the Celtic Wheel and the Goddesses presiding over the Points of the Wheel
- Connecting with our Mother Earth and Dreaming the Earth's Dream
- Carrying our Stories, integrating our Stories so we may assist others on their Journeys
- Bringing forth the Spiral teachings of our Foremothers and Walking the Triple Spiral

- Using Drumming and Rattles, Stories and Songs.

At this time in our 'Story', as womyn we are being called upon to 'Priestess'. To Priestess ourselves, Priestess our Sisters and Brothers and to Priestess our blessed Mother Earth in Her transition.

So what does it mean to Priestess – for me it means moving into the divine, while being fully present in our feminine and speaking through our hearts, whole holding the Chalice. Each one of us is a chalice and within that we hold deep knowing, deep power and deep creativity. To hold that chalice for others to drink from and be replenished, so they may go/grow forth in the way that is meant for them. And our Chalice never empties, it fills us first – or it should – before we offer it for others to partake of. Bringing forth the Madeline energies, again, within the Ancient Irish tradition, remembering our foremothers and the womyn who hold sacred those ways upon our land.

Blessings, Amantha

About Amantha Murphy

Ancient Irish Traditions

Amantha is a Seabhean/Shamanic Teacher and Healer and follows the path of the Goddess. She started her spiritual work publicly in 1970 as a clairvoyant and moved into trance mediumship and healing within a few years. She developed many tools along the Way with her spirit and ancestral teachers guiding her, and continues to work with both individuals and groups, at home and internationally. She is a Mother of four and Grandmother of four, living in County Kerry, Ireland, and working primarily with the Land, Running Apprentice Teachings at home in Ireland, in Canada and the States on The Way of the Seabhean which includes Womyn's Rites of Passage as well as her Ancient Goddess Pilgrimages. Her passion is the Land and returning to HER story -- working through the Grandmothers, the "Shining Ones" the Tuatha de Danann and the Ancient Ones. She has been running Sacred Pilgrimages in Ireland since 1995.

"From my earliest memories my spirit guides have been my constant companions. The spirit and fairy realm was more real to me than this reality. I grew up spending my summers here in Kerry with my grandmother, a midwife and healer, who opened my awareness from an early age to the essence of the Mother, the Land and Her Nature. It was she who introduced me to the Sacred Way and places to commune with the Great Mother."

"I work primarily with the presence of the "Grandmothers" and the Way of the "Sidhe", our Shining Ones, the Tuatha De Danann and the Ancient Ones, our Stone People. Ireland had a rich culture of indigenous teachings before the coming of the first Celts and it is in accessing that and connecting again with our Ancient Ones that we bring about the deep healing and communion both within and around us."

"My work, my family, my loved ones, my passion for the Great Goddess and the Land -- this is what moves and feeds me. The Land is my Mother and she has held me for as long as I can remember."
